

Daniel K. Evans

22 Seaman's Circle
Buena Vista, VA 24416
(540) 261-1074
evansd@wlu.edu

EDUCATION

Tennessee Wesleyan College Athens, TN 1978 - 1982
Graduated magna cum laude in 1982 with Bachelor of Science in Accounting and Bachelor of Arts in History

Washington & Lee University School of Law Lexington, VA 1982 – 1985
Graduated in 1985 with Juris Doctorate

EXPERIENCE IN TEACHING IN HIGHER EDUCATION

Washington & Lee University
Fall 2014
Adjunct Professor – teach Introduction to Managerial Accounting

Washington & Lee School of Law
2009-current
Visiting Professor of Law (current title)
Professor of Practice
Adjunct Professor
Classes I have taught or currently teach:
Legal Skills Immersion
Introduction to US Law (LLM students)
Securities Litigation Practicum
Accounting For Lawyers
Drafting Contracts
Advanced Civil Procedure Practicum – Discovery
Workshops for Academic Support program

James Madison University
2009-current
Adjunct Professor –teach a Comparative Justice class focused on comparing legal systems used throughout the world and what constitutes justice in various legal, social and political situations

OTHER EXPERIENCE IN TEACHING

Maury River Middle School

August 2006—June 2009

Math Teacher—6th and 7th grade

Math Intervention Teacher—6th, 7th and 8th grade

LEGAL EXPERIENCE

Wildman, Harrold, Allen, Dixon & McDonnell (Memphis, TN)

Associate

August 1985 – December 1988

Responsibilities: Wide variety of cases primarily involving civil litigation arising out of white collar criminal matters (i.e. investigating losses suffered by banks and other businesses resulting from employee's embezzlement and other fraudulent schemes and then pursuing legal action to recover the lost funds or insurance proceeds).

Wolff Ardis (Memphis, TN)

Associate and Partner

January 1989 – December 2001

Responsibilities: Wide variety of cases primarily involving civil litigation arising out of white collar criminal matters, accounting malpractice, securities fraud litigation and civil litigation against automobile manufacturers for their liability for manufacturing vehicles which contributed to or enhanced the injuries suffered by the occupants during an accident.

Law Office of Daniel K. Evans (Lexington, VA)

Sole Attorney

March 2002 – August 2006

Responsibilities: Wide variety of cases including criminal, traffic, civil litigation and transactional work.