

Glenn Shive, Ph.D.

Executive Director (retired), Hong Kong America Center (Fulbright)

glennshive@usa.net

1. Employment

Lopez Chair in Asian Studies, International Studies, Virginia Military Institute (VMI), Lexington VA Fall semesters of 2020 and 2021.

Executive Director, Hong Kong - America Center, an NGO consortium for international education exchange of eight universities in HK, 2000-2020.

Vice President for Programs, United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia (UBCHEA), Chung Chi College, CUHK, 2013-2016 (on leave from HKAC).

Executive Director, Board of Governors Program (an adult degree completion program), Governors State University, Chicago, Illinois 1995 – 1999.

Executive Director, Council of International Programs (CIP), an exchange program for mid-career professionals with ten national affiliates and HQ in Washington DC, 1991- 95.

Director, Hong Kong office of the Institute of International Education (IIE), with responsibilities for programs with mainland China, 1988-91.

Assistant Dean, East-West Center, Student Affairs and Open Grants (SAOG), University of Hawaii, Honolulu, Hawaii, 1983-86.

Foreign Expert and Teacher of American Studies, English Department, East China Normal University, Shanghai, PRC, 1982-83.

Director of Policy Research on School Improvement Initiatives, The Network of Innovative Schools, Andover, Massachusetts, USA 1978-81.

Associate in Research, John K. Fairbank Center (Title VI), Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass 1979-81

2. Research Positions

Research Fellow, Advanced Institute for Research in the Humanities, Peking University, January - June, 2013

Research Fellow, Centre of Asian Studies, Hong Kong University, 1989-91

Fulbright Scholar, Faculty of Education, Chinese University of HK, 1998-99

Fulbright Scholar, Center for American Studies, National Sun Yatsen University, Kaohsiung, Taiwan, January - September, 2000

Scholar-in-Residence, East Asia Division, Academic Exchange Programs, (Fulbright), U.S. Information Agency, Washington DC 1986-88

3. Education

Ph.D. (1979) and M.A. (1976) in Asian History from Temple University, Philadelphia PA USA. Research fields: ancient and modern China, modern Japan, Ottoman Middle East, Renaissance and Reformation in Europe, and culture and communication studies. Doctoral dissertation on the Rhetoric of Mao Ze-dong.

Studied Mandarin Chinese at Middlebury College, Vermont (summer 1973) and classical Chinese (history and literature) at the Mandarin Center, National Taiwan Normal University in Taipei (1974-75).

B.A. cum laude in Religion (1972) at Temple University. Senior thesis on Ludwig Wittgenstein on religious language with Paul M. van Buren. Junior year abroad at Blackfriars College in Oxford University, UK (1969-70). Free University of Berlin for the summer semester 1970. Director for Student Activities at the Office of Urban Affairs, Temple University (1967-69).

International work camp of the World Council of Churches in the Dominican Republic and Haiti, summer 1967.

Exchange student in the Gymnasium (5th form) of St. Gallen, Switzerland (1965-66) in the International Christian Youth Exchange (ICYE).

Languages: Mandarin Chinese and German

4. Innovations in Teaching and Learning

Lopez Visiting Scholar in Asian Studies at the Virginia Military Institute (VMI), Lexington Virginia, fall 2020, teaching courses on China's Foreign Relations and on Global Environmental Politics

Climate Change Education project in HK funded by Environment and Conservation Fund (ECF), 2017-2019; with Carbon Care Asia Innolab

COP simulations on UN climate policy, and environmental moot court exercises for advocacy training for HK university students

Designed and organized policy simulations for HK university students on:

- Global environmental policy
- International trade negotiations simulations
- Korean nuclear program in the six-party talks
- South China Sea code of conduct negotiation
- Global financial coordination in the G-20 summits
- Swing state strategies in American political campaigns

Teaching by Design, series of workshops on design thinking for teachers and librarians at universities and schools in HK

The Canton Trade Game, an online game for schools designed and launched by HKAC, Koding Kingdom, and the HK Maritime Museum (2018-2020)

Fulbright HK General Education Program (2006-2012), created and organized a consultancy to assist HK universities in building four-year undergraduate general education curriculums and student-centered teaching and learning systems

Faculty development workshops in Vietnam National university on massive open online courses (MOOCs)

Education design for the Environment and Policy Institute (EAPI) at East West Center and the University of Hawaii (1983-86).

5. Teaching Experience

Taught university courses in the U.S. and in China in:

- Global Environmental Politics
- Modern Chinese history
- Contemporary China
- Chinese philosophy
- American foreign policy in the Asia Pacific region
- American history survey

Asian Pacific Area Studies
English writing for non-native speakers

6. Published Books

North-South Scholarly Exchange (London, Mansell, 1988)

Open and Distance Education in Asia (Open University of Hong Kong Press, 2001)

Chinese Religious Life, Oxford University Press, 2011. Translated into Chinese by HKU Press. Teaching resource website at: <https://religious.life.hku.hk>.

7. Teaching and Learning for International Exchange Programs

Created HKAC's program on climate change education

Designed urban labs in HK for visiting teams of US students in urban studies

Organized multimedia programs on UN Sustainable Development Goals for students in five Asian countries

Presented numerous papers on education issues on panels in international conferences and professional meetings in Asia

Conducted workshops on leadership and team building in multi-cultural organizations in Asia

Designed summer internships and study tours in HK for US students

Designed summer internships and study tours in the US for HK students

Organized a post-doctoral program at the EWC in Hawaii for recent PhDs to turn their dissertations into book publications

Forty years' experience in developing, funding and implementing international exchange programs

Raised funds from national, state, local sources, both governmental and private foundations for education programs

Managed institutional, faculty and student grant competitions in the US at the national level

Recruited and advised Asian students about study opportunities, including practical training, in the U.S.

Conducted pre-departure orientations and returnee seminars for Asian students and faculty on exchanges with American universities

Played an active role in the reform of the J-visa (exchange visitor) program in the US State Department

Conducted workshops and simulation exercises on cross-cultural communication

Produced video materials on teaching across cultures for the Fulbright program in China

Developed internships for the Council of International Programs (CIP) in American social service agencies for mid-career professionals in human services from overseas

Written and spoken commentaries on China's policies and practices on study abroad

Organized alumni activities for international exchange programs

Promoted East Asian universities as destination for study abroad for American university students

Advised American universities on recruitment strategies and practices in Asia

Organized American university recruitment fairs in Asia

Trained staff advisors about American universities in academic information centers in China

Developed exchange programs with Eastern Europe, Middle East and Africa for the Council of International Programs (CIP) funded by the Soros Foundations

Organized academic conferences in China and in HK for the Fulbright program

Designed competitive academic fellowship programs for American scholars to come to Asia and Asian scholars to go to the US

8. Research and Development Activities in the US and Asia

Designed and secured funding for numerous conferences, workshops and symposia in Asia

Wrote numerous articles and papers for newsletters, journals, edited books and proceedings on US-East Asian relations

Assisted the Salesian Colleges of India in their international exchange programs

Created and organized the annual Higher Education Leadership Project (HELP) in Myanmar for university faculty

Appeared as a frequent commentator about American politics and society in live television (CNN) and radio programs (RTHK) in HK.

Presented papers at international meetings on comparative education, technology, international exchanges, and US - East Asian relations

Obtained doctorate in modern Chinese history, with emphasis on rhetoric of Communist movement prior to 1949

Research on reform in Asian, especially Chinese, higher education institutions

Initiated the Sun Yat-sen America Center at Sun Yatsen University in Kaohsiung, Taiwan, 1999

Led Fulbright study tours to China for American academics in multiple fields and regions

Advised graduate students in US on fieldwork projects in Asia

Developed interdisciplinary core seminar on Asia Pacific studies for Centerwide programs at the EWC in Hawaii (1983-86)

Researched trends in philanthropy, third sector and NGO management in Asian countries for the Asia Foundation

Researched open/ distance learning programs and organizations in Asia for the Open University of HK.

Presented numerous briefings in HK for Americans delegations of academic and business leaders about contemporary China, Hong Kong, and East Asia

Lived, taught, studied and managed projects and organizations in and with Asia for nearly 50 years