General Jumper also introduced the President of the Parents Council, Mr. Ray (in attendance) and Michelle Lancaster. He thanked them for their unyielding support to the Corps of Cadets and each of their families. He informed the Board members that they have each been provided with a Smart Book of key Institute officials and a historical vignette about the design of the VMI barracks.

He briefed the Board on "The Institute Today—VMI's 177th Year." He had not done this in 3-years and felt a full overview was important.

a. General Peay highlighted the summer furlough activities for 2016. There were 406 cadets enrolled in summer session I and II, 232 cadets enrolled in the Sumer Transition Program, 119 cadets participated in Study Abroad programs, and 59 cadets participated in the Undergraduate Research programs. The summer ROTC programs had 316 commissioning track cadets participate in various service-related camps and training activities. Additionally, over 1100 high school student athletes participated in various athletic camps sponsored by VMI over the summer. General Peay also highlighted the ongoing construction and maintenance efforts over the summer, and provided proposed timelines on the completion of the three major capital construction projects (Cormack Hall, Cocke Hall, and Corps Hall).

b. General Peay provided the Board with a historical perspective of changes in the Institute today as compared to 25-years ago. The Corps has grown in size from approximately 1,300 cadets to a little over 1,700 today. VMI moved away from its mandatory commissioning practice to an optional commissioning program for the Corps. Coeducation is now in its 19th year and continues to be a successful journey for the institution. VMI has experienced significant growth in undergraduate and foreign study programs, and has increased its curricular footprint...13 to 14 majors of study and 11 to 31 minors. The faculty composition has gone from over 50% VMI graduates to approximately 11%. The athletic programs have increased with 7 new women's teams and an Operating Budget that has grown from $1.5M to $7.8M annually. The average class size has moved from 15:1 ratio to 11:1 along with the elimination of mandatory Saturday classes. Information Technology has changed the academic and barracks landscape, and VMI is now a wireless Post. In state tuition has increased to $26.5K from $6.5K, and out-of-state has increased to $50.8K from $10.6K. The total operating budget has grown from $29.5M to over $102M during this period. Finally, General Peay discussed changes in the Honor system with the establishment of jury of peers vice trial by Honor Court, while preserving one of the only true single-sanction honor systems in the country.

c. General Peay reviewed the mission and vision of the Institute, and gave an overview of how VMI runs as an organization. He discussed roles of the various committees, our partnership with the three alumni agencies, interaction with our Board of Visitors, and the key establishc processes (Strategic Plan, 6-Year Financial Budget Plan, Facilities Master Plan, 4-Year Rolling Calendar).

d. General Peay briefed the composition of the Corps of Cadets for academic year 2016-2017. The Class of 2020 consisted of 506 rats, with 60 females, 95 recruited NCAA athletes, across 38 states and 4 countries. The acceptance rate was 50% and the average GPA was a 3.65. The current Corps size is comprised of 1,713 cadets (1,028 Virginians/685 non-Virginians), 451 NCAA athletes, 27 foreign cadets, and 197 females. Math/Science/Engineering majors represent 58% of the Corps, with the remaining 42% studying the various Liberal Arts majors. General Peay briefed the Board on the current retention rates and under-represented population statistics over the past decade. He also gave the Board an overview on the “Day in the Life of a Cadet” which covered the daily schedule, academic and athletic programs, ROTC requirements, and the VMI unique military training requirements.

e. General Peay briefed the current sources of financial revenue broken out by state funding, cadet revenues, and private contributions. He also provided a construction update on the major projects that have taken place over the past several years, along with an update on the Corps Physical Training Facility. He briefed the Board that they will be given a tour of Corps Hall during the afternoon session.

f. General Peay concluded his remarks by providing the Board with some insight on the growing “Trends in Higher Education” and the challenges ahead on the 5-year horizon. At the federal level, VMI has experienced increased resource competition, access and affordability issues, changing priorities, increased oversight, and greater focus on campus safety and security. At the state level, there is greater focus on producing more degrees versus workforce credentials, unstable state revenues and pressure on tuition/fees, tension over centralized versus decentralized oversight, and K-12 priorities and concerns.

5. BG Robert Green ’67, Deputy Superintendent for Finance, Administration, and Support, briefed the members on the FY17 Operational Budget and other issues. A copy of his slides will be appended to these minutes as Appendix III.

a. BG Green reviewed the key financial indicators for the year. The projected total Education and General Funds for FY17 is $37.6M. Of that total, the projected General Funds represent $10.2M and Cadet Tuition and Fees represent $27.4M of the total state revenues.

b. BG Green discussed the increase in tuition and fees for FY17. In-state tuition increased by 4% and out-of-state increased by 5.2%. Additional fees for FY17 increased by 5.5% and those fees include room, board, medical, cadet activities/facilities, athletic, laundry, haircuts, and UMA activities. The total cost increase for in-state cadets is 5% and for out-of-state is 5.3%.
c. BG Green briefed the Budgeted Dollars for Personnel in FY17. VMI has 590 full time employees with $52M budgeted for salaries/fringes. There are 143 teaching faculty members with a budget of $15.6M (30%), 147 A/P staff members with a budget of $14.9M (29%), 300 classified employees with a budget of $16.4M (31%), and the remaining personnel budget comprised of part-time employees with a budget of $5.1M (10%).

He mentioned that the Governor directed all executive branch agencies submit a 5% reduction plan for FY17, but higher education institutions were exempted. Additionally, he briefed that each of the program heads submitted contingency plans for a 5% and 10% reduction in funding back in December to remain postured for any potential cuts. Finally, he mentioned that addressing employee compensation concerns and the slowing down of cadet tuition and fee increases remain a top priority for the Superintendent.

   a. Cadet Beddoes opened by providing a brief overview of events to date and the way ahead for this upcoming academic year. His primary goal is to continue strengthening the class system and enforcing the standards and privileges afforded to each class in barracks. His second goal is to ensure that the rat class is being properly prepared and trained to become a cohesive and well bonded class prior to breakout. He stressed that is important to manage a successful dyke system, and that there will be several rat events and community events throughout the year to help with the overall class bonding experience. His final goal is to facilitate the transition and training for next year’s class leadership into taking responsibility for barracks well in advance of graduation this year. He wants to set the class leaders for 2018 up for success when they are first classmen.

   b. Cadet Davison reported on the results of matriculation week and the upcoming regimental plan for the academic year ahead. He commented that matriculation went very well and the events for the first two weeks were very professional. Provisions were made to account for the high temperatures and they were able to minimize heat related injuries. The attrition rate for rats this year is lower than last year and he credited that to the success of his cadre. He reported that the New Market event for the rats went very well and that the first parade of the year went better than anticipated. He commented on how busy the fall calendar will be and that there will be an increase in time constraints over the months ahead. His initial goals are to improve overall esprit de corps, educate the rats on the VMI heritage, and keep things into perspective for the rats. He concluded his remarks by commenting how great the overall cadet leadership has been this year and he looks forward to a successful year ahead.

   c. Cadet Inman reported on his vision and expectations for the Honor Court for the upcoming year. His primary focus is on continued education for the Corps of Cadets. He commented on the importance of cadets properly documenting their help received statements, and stressed that greater emphasis on certification will be discussed and implemented. He recognized that the Honor Court priorities may adjust as the year progresses, but he has a very solid court and great group of leaders that comprise the members for this academic year.

He concluded by discussing upcoming fundraising initiatives and the scholarship banquet to be held in early October.

b. Mr. Louthan introduced himself as the President of the Alumni Agency. He focused on the mission of the association and discussed three points regarding the future of the organization. The first was how the agency is going through a reorganization from top to bottom with enhanced joint agency operations. Through part of his organizational efforts, he is putting greater emphasis on diversity and the inclusion of more minority and female alumni into the leadership of the agency. He also commented on the need to better promote the general welfare of the Institute by creating coordinated activities and opportunities for our alumni to come together to generate momentum in fundraising and various other support to VMI. He concluded his remarks by stating that the Agency will work on creating a greater unity of effort. Due to the diverse group of alumni we often take separate paths in working toward the same goal.

c. Mr. Crockett provided an update to the VMI Campaign. The Foundation funded $288M in unrestricted funds representing the highest effort in the history of the Foundation. $77M was raised within the last year, of which $34.5M was in cash representing the highest ever in any fiscal year.
